Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

August 5, 2018

“The Lord gave them bread from heaven.”

“The Lord gave them bread from heaven,” we sing in the responsorial psalm today, and we hear two examples of this generosity in today’s readings. In Exodus, the Lord provided manna to the Chosen People when they were famished in the desert. In the Gospel, Jesus tells us the crowd that God gives them the true bread from heaven: Jesus, the Bread of Life. As Saint Paul writes to the Ephesians, nourished by Jesus, we can now “put on the new self.”

Pastoral Reflection

What are we hungry for?

I remember my difficult, three-day ski mountaineering trek with a friend where we encountered many challenges. We used up our food supply sooner than expected. On the third day, carrying a heavy pack and skiing our way back to our starting point, the only thing we had left to eat was a sweet pudding powder. I experienced a sugar rush, but half an hour later, I was just as famished as before.

What do we really feed on? Success? Being accepted by others? Perfectionism? Financial security? Status? These things may give us a "sugar rush", but they leave us just as hungry as before. Today's gospel reading invites us to seek what nourishes us, to strive after "the bread of God...which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

This life-giving food is a free gift. But how do we access this gift? Jesus tells each one of us today, "whoever comes to me will never hunger." Every day, as we grow in our personal relationship with the Lord, the words of today's psalm can ring true for each one of us. The Lord wants to give us food "in abundance" so that we can proclaim the "glorious deeds of the Lord" in our daily lives .
