"Blessed are they who follow the law of the Lord!"

Our readings today address the laws that God has given us to live by. The first reading and the psalm present them as fulfilling and life-giving. Then along comes Jesus in the Gospel, and while he upholds the law, he calls us to a higher standard. No longer is it enough to observe the letter of the law. As we hear these words proclaimed today, it might be good to reflect on one area in our life where we can do more, and to pray for the grace to do so.

Pastoral Reflection

A gospel to-do List

"Your light must shine before others..." (Matthew 5:16).

As we launch into this day, many of us have a number of things planned. Our to-do list looms before our mind's eye, waiting for us to begin. We do our best to keep up with our daily responsibilities.

But today's gospel gives us another to-do list. We are tasked to be "salt of the earth" and "light of the world." As God's salt, we are to bring spiritual savor to others, and as God's light, we are to shine with God's brilliance.

Are we to set aside our to-do list for God's list? No. Rather, a kind word to the supermarket cashier, a word of thanks to the maintenance staff, a thoughtful call to a suffering neighbor, such as these are moments of salt and light. In the midst of our daily duties, we are to shine with God's goodness and love, and thus we are salt and light for the world.

It is the wisdom of the just to love the truth as it is and to avoid what is false, to do what is right without reward and to be more willing to put up with evil than to do it, not to seek revenge for wrong, and to consider as gain any insult for truth's sake.
